

Our Engineering Team Stories

Justine Lerner

Section engineer

Before joining EKFB, I...

I did a HND measurement and instrumentation, followed by a "prepa" for a year and then going to a Civil engineering School in Paris. I've been in the Civil engineering for 5 years starting with a humanitarian project in Nicaragua.

I am responsible for...

Make the site works. No stopping permitted on site, planning, requisitions, permits and consents, safety on site is a priority.

I wanted a career in construction because...

Construction is a specific domain with a proper mentality that I really enjoy. Be able to make happen projects such as HS2 is a reward.

My ambitions for the future are...

I'd like to improve in management and economic skills. Civil is a complete domain where lots of skills are involved.

My advice for a new starter would be...

Be curious on everything: the most you learn the better you are.

Outside of work I like to...

Do sports, take a drink with friends and colleagues, cultural sessions.