

A Compass evaluation enables education settings to quickly and easily evaluate their careers activity against the eight Gatsby Benchmarks.

We recommend completing a Compass evaluation every term to effectively track and monitor your setting's progress against achieving the eight Gatsby Benchmarks. A Compass evaluation takes approximately 30 minutes to complete.

Further guidance on how to complete a Compass evaluation can be found on the Resource Directory.

To find out more about how our system calculates your results, there is further information at the end of this document.

Please note: given variations in term dates, CEC takes formal measures of progress on 31st of December, 31st of March and 31st of July.

We understand that some young people at specialist settings will have different needs post-education, compared to those at mainstream schools. Please think about all learners in your setting when answering the questions as they have been designed to reflect a wide range of careers information needs.

The term 'progression pathways' is included for specialist settings, so you can evaluate your careers information provision for learners who are expected to move into adult social care settings or supported living. If this applies to your setting, please use your professional judgement to interpret how each question relates to this cohort and their individual needs, while ensuring careers programme activity supports raising aspirations linked to their progression pathways. (Please note, 'careers' can be defined according to individual progression pathways, that may not necessarily be paid employment or training.)

Gatsby Benchmark 8 : Personal guidance

These questions are about Gatsby Benchmark 8: Personal guidance.

Every learner should have opportunities for guidance meetings with a careers adviser, who could be internal (a member of staff), or external, provided they are trained to an appropriate level. These meetings should be available for all learners whenever significant study or career choices are being made, and should be scheduled to meet their individual needs. The careers leader should work closely with the careers adviser, Special Educational Needs and Disabilities Co-ordinator (SENDCO) and other key staff to ensure personal guidance is effective and embedded in the careers programme.

Please review each statement carefully and select the response that most accurately reflects current practices within your setting.

Question 8.1

What proportion of learners have had at least one personal guidance meeting with a qualified careers adviser by the time they leave your specialist setting?

What does it mean for a Careers Adviser to be trained to an appropriate level?

As the relevant professional body, it is for the Careers Development Institute (CDI) to determine the appropriate level of qualification. The CDI makes a distinction in this regard between offering 'information and advice' and offering 'guidance'. It notes: "... as a minimum the CDI states a level 4 qualification to offer careers information and advice and a level 6 or level 7 career development qualification to offer career guidance."

Please consider all your learners when answering, regardless of the nature of their special educational need and/or disability, and select the option that best applies.

None (0%)	A few (1-25%)	Some (26-50%)	Most (51-75%)

Thank you for completing your Compass evaluation.
Well done on evaluating your setting's careers provision.

Scoring Summary for the Compass Evaluation

The Compass evaluation uses a scoring system to measure progress and confidence across different areas of your setting's careers provision. Each response option is linked to a score, with higher scores reflecting stronger delivery, confidence or coverage.

How scoring works

- Every question has a set of response options (e.g. Yes/No, confidence levels or percentages of learners reached)
- Each option is assigned a score (e.g. Yes = 1, No = 0, All learners = 4, Some learners = 2 etc)
- Your setting's scores against each question are added together to give you a total score for each Gatsby Benchmark
- To fully achieve each benchmark, the total score for that benchmark must be 100%

Some questions may not apply to every setting, if you do not currently have learners in a particular year group for example.

- In such cases, the question is marked "Not applicable"
- This means the question is removed from your setting's total possible score
- Your score is calculated only from the questions that are relevant to your setting
